I went to a coffee shop w/ S one day there is this mural on the wall with a lot of logos of ig maybe bands a lot of books on the bar there's a Jenga tower on the coffee table there 4 tables in the main area and an indoor patio overhanging the barista station people carved their names in the bathroom walls and sharpied all over with their signatures and hearts and signs of love we did a few capture-the-flags in the shop it was fun :D

we tested the latency and polling rate of keyboards, Bro had the same headphones as me but white, and a cheaper bt variant of the keyboard i used to use but he's basically me but not me :D

I had a single shot of espresso, idr what S had but we played chess it was never to play chess but to chat we walked around allot he got a new laptop it was cool, I told him bout my PC and my server stuff weird Linux problems involving Nvidia,

I bought water and fruit chips and idk what else at the store it was raining at one point and allot too he worked at a cool place for tech but I can't talk about that
